

Spacekids launches exclusive t-shirt range

14 April 2009

We are really excited about our new, exclusively designed, Spacekids short-sleeved t-shirts. They feature fantastic photographic prints and are perfect for any budding astronaut.

The first t-shirt is available in black or dark blue, and features a striking image of a US astronaut in full spacesuit, on a spacewalk.

The second features the iconic image of the Russian cosmonaut, Yuri Gagarin (the first man in space), and is available in royal blue or claret.

The t-shirts will be a big hit this summer, as we celebrate the 40th anniversary of the first moon landing, on 20th July 2009.
