

Spacekids launches Arabella Miller space range

25 November 2008

Spacekids is pleased to announce that a range of Arabella Miller t-shirts featuring space-themed designs has just launched and is now available in our online shop.

Arabella Miller is a relative newcomer to the world of children's clothing, but is quickly building a following, with their simple, fun design motifs, featuring on quality garments, made of 100% organic cotton.

Featuring two great designs, these t-shirts are sure to impress junior astronauts, with an eye for style! The range includes both long and short sleeved designs.

Find the Arabella Miller range, and our other great space related products at www.spacekids.co.uk.
